

As solar grows in popularity, more scammers are targeting consumers. Here are three common solar scams to look out for, how to avoid them and how to report solar scams.

Scams are unfortunately common in the solar industry. Learn more about some of the most likely scams you may face when trying to go solar.

Learn how to spot solar panel fraud, avoid predatory contracts, and take action if you've been scammed, with guidance from Prevost Law Firm.

Could not sell my property due to solar panel loan credit not transferrable to buyer. This company will do everything to earn your business but are assholes when it comes to supporting...

No information about the cost to remove or transfer solar panels, which could lead you to believe you have future options that might not be available or affordable

Here's how to dodge solar panel scams and identify red flags. Depending on your source, you'll find different definitions of what solar panel scams are. For this article, we'll focus on...

While you are browsing solar power companies, one of them may offer to install a solar panel or solar roof in your home for a small cost or even for free. It's an intentionally misleading...

While rooftop solar panels are becoming increasingly ubiquitous in homes throughout the United States, the industry also has a more sinister side: a seemingly widespread problem of ...

These scams start with an unexpected phone call, message on social, or even an in-person visit. The so-called official offers you an "energy audit" to reduce your utility costs. Or they might try to sign you ...

To avoid getting scammed, you need to know what to look out for and when to walk away. Here's our guide to spotting solar panel scams and finding a great installer.

Web: <https://www.black-hat.co.za>