Who needs to agree for solar panel installation on a rental property?

While it may be possible to install solar panels on a rental property, it will take an agreement between the renter and the property owner and even neighbors if you live in a multi-dwelling building.

How can solar panels benefit tenants?

Solar panels might benefit you and your tenants in several ways. First of all, tenants at rentals usually pay the electric bill out of pocket. What you're saving on electricity, you could afford on a little higher rent.

Do solar panels matter if you're a tenant or a landlord?

The short answer is yes, but it depends on whether you're the tenant or the landlord. Solar panels aren't usually the norm on a rental property, regardless of being environmentally conscientious. It also matters whether you're in an apartment or a single home.

Can solar panels be installed on an apartment complex?

A Single Home Solar panels, as a rule, are installed on the roof of a single home. No one hangs solar panels off the side of an apartment complex. Likewise, no one installs solar panels on an apartment balcony either.
